

Ripley's Restaurant Review

Ripley the Dog

Today we had lunch at The Feedlot located at 456 Kokopelli, Fruita. This restaurant serves breakfast, lunch and dinner off an American style menu. Their specialty is prime rib. Let's see how they did.

The friendly hostess greeted us and seated us promptly. Our group was slightly larger and we staggered our arrival times. The service here is always wonderful. They even remembered that I like water with a slice of lemon with my meal. (I'm trying to cut out soda! Obviously it is bad for dogs.) The staff was friendly and the service was excellent. When the food came, my BLT was great; the bacon was nicely crisp and they remembered no mayo! My companions enjoyed their various meals such as a hamburger, linguine, and chicken fried steak. They were very happy with their meals and said they were awesome. Those of us who had fries with our meal had a generous supply, they were crispy and were they tasty! The chicken fried steak was raved about as the "best they've ever had."

While you are there, take the time to meet the owners, Tami and Russ Parker. They are very kind, and most genuine. This family-style steakhouse features made to order cuts of beef, pork, chicken and fish for your eating pleasure. Everything is handmade! Adult beverages such as wine, beer and mixed drinks can be ordered. They accept cash, Visa, and Mastercard.

Ripley gives this Fruita restaurant 3 1/2 barks out of 4.
